THE FLOWERS THAT BLOOM IN THE SPRING . . . TRALA!

Attractive Elsie Busch, 799 Sutherland Avenue, is posing in the above picture, giving all and sundry a gentle reminder that the first day of spring will officially be here shortly—

March 21 to be exact. Miss Busch is admiring an armful of daffodils and hyacinths grown in Ernie Burnett's greenhouses. It won't be long before early spring flowers will be blooming outdoors. Ardent gardeners have already started cleaning up yards in preparation for seed planting. (Courier Staff Photo—prints available.)

B.C. Civil Servants Say Strike Just Postponed

VICTORIA (CP)—After a history-making four-hour strike which slowed the province's bureaucratic machine almost to a standstill, British Columbia's civil servants returned to the job Friday—for four days at least.

The strike of 12,000 members of the B.C. Government Employees Association in support of demands for bargaining rights started at 8 a.m. MST and ended at 11:50 a.m. when the government announced it had obtained a court injunction ordering pickets removed.

NOT CANCELLED
Association officials emphasized Friday night that the strike was postponed, and not cancelled. But they said business would continue as usual at least until the case comes to court Tuesday.

It will then be decided whether the injunction issued to the government by Mr. Justice H. W. McInnes is to be continued or to lapse. The injunction restrains the association from "watching, besetting or picketing" any government building in the province.

While the strike lasted it affected the activities of many thousands of British Columbia residents throughout the province.

In Victoria the august corridors of the legislative buildings were silent as the white-collared pickets paraded outside; in Vancouver buses were rerouted when drivers refused to cross

Newfoundland Waits Next Move In Loggers' Strike

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced today the government has decided against appointing a royal commission to investigate the troubled labor situation in Newfoundland.

By GERALD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP)—Central Newfoundland waited today for the next moves in a bitter loggers' strike that has cost one life and split the nation.

Premier Smallwood added his voice Friday to a growing public clamor for an independent inquiry into incidents arising from the 73-day strike by 1,200 members of the International Woodworkers of America (IWA) against the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company.

Mr. Smallwood asked Prime Minister Diefenbaker to appoint a superior court judge from outside Newfoundland to "investigate acts of lawlessness and violence" during the strike. Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress which supports the IWA, has demanded an independent inquiry into the part taken by the RCMP in a clash Tuesday that resulted in fatal injuries to Newfoundland Constable William Moss.

KEEP VIGIL
RCMP and Newfoundland constabulary patrols are keeping a constant vigil on streets and roads here.

The IWA has set up a new headquarters in Badger, 20 miles west of here on the main road leading to an A. N. D. woods camp. It was in Badger that Const. Moss was fatally injured in a fight between police and IWA pickets.

A road-block was set up midway between here and Badger late Friday night after a vigilante group was reported preparing to attack the new IWA headquarters. Two RCMP constables carrying flashlights flagged down all traffic and checked occupants of cars.

An outbreak of violence appeared near after a joint company-NBWW announcement Friday morning of details of a working agreement signed Thursday night. It gave the estimated 3,000-5,000 loggers enlisted in the independent union a five-cent-an-hour increase but no reduction in the 60-hour work week. Woodsmen paid by the cord will get a nine-cent-a-cord boost over the former $1.44.

The IWA, which claimed bargaining rights before decertification.

CLC-Chartered Fruit Union Holding Parley

PENTICTON (CP)—The new CLC-chartered union which is taking over bargaining rights for packinghouse and cannery workers in the Okanagan and Kootenay areas will officially come into existence here Sunday.

Eleven sub-locals of the union, B.C. Interior Fruit and Vegetable Workers Union local 1572, have already been organized. Delegates from the sub-locals, extending from Creston in the East Kootenay to Vernon in the Okanagan, will begin their first annual meeting Sunday.

The meeting will continue through Monday and Tuesday if necessary.

Bonner Hints At Election

VANCOUVER (CP)—Attorney-General Robert Bonner hinted at the possibility of an election next year in a speech to his constituents Friday night.

Several times during a meeting of the Point Grey Social Credit Constituency Association Mr. Bonner urged the 150 people present to prepare for an election. "We are going to face an election next year," he said, "or in the next two or three years."

Horrors! Guardsmen May Lose Bear Hats

LONDON (Reuters)—The tall black bearskin hats worn by guardsmen at Buckingham Palace one day may be just pedestrian nylon. The big problem so far is making nylon look like bearskin.

The issue of the bearskin hats worn by the 3,000 members of the Brigade of Guards came up recently as a result of a short letter to a newspaper.

The writer complained that the tall hats traditional with guardsmen for more than 100 years, looked as though they had seen better days.

The guards admitted that some of the hats were not as sleek as they might be.

One of the difficulties, it was explained, was that the hats, which consist of a bearskin covering over a willow frame, get sat on, which doesn't help their appearance.

TIMMINS OFFER

The issue stayed there until Mayor Leo Del Villano of Timmins, Ont., cabled an offer to organize a hunt for 1,500 bears, or enough to supply new hats for the entire brigade.

The guards, once sure the offer was a real one, cabled acceptance.

Then the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals decided it would launch a campaign against the hunt as being cruel to the bears, whom Mayor Del Villano was quoted as describing as something of a nuisance anyway.

But now it has been disclosed that the nylon industry has already begun experiments on making nylon bearskin, at the request of the ministry of supply.

So far it has made fabric resembling mink, ocelot and leopard—but not bearskin, chiefly because there was no market for it.

Frail 97-Year-Old Man Cleans Up On Two 31-Year-Old 210 Pounders

TORONTO (CP)—Frank Duevall, 97, was acquitted Friday on charges of wounding two 31-year-old men.

Duevall, a frail 100 pounds, told an Ontario Supreme Court jury he beat Dennis Copan, a 210-pound six-footer, and Maynard Revoxy in self defence.

Copan was beaten about the face and Revoxy received two broken arms, a fractured jaw, skull cuts and a broken ear drum. The charges were laid following a fight in Duevall's home, where Revoxy was a roomer, at 4 a.m. Dec. 30.

Duevall, probably one of the oldest men ever to face a Canadian criminal court, said he did not hit the pair until he had been struck in the face and suffered a cut lip. He said he used a two-by-two board after he "was put out because of their jumping, yelling and hollering."

Duevall said: "The machine (radio) was jollying and yelling with that ding dong noise." He went to the room and turned it off.

Then, he said, Revoxy jumped up and hit him in the face.

In a statement to police, admitted as evidence, Duevall complained of a "singing machine that plays music—a gramophone I think you call it." When told by police one man may die he said: "He'd be better off dead."

It's True! Three On A Honeymoon!

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (Reuters)—A Chinese butcher married two wives at once here today—under a Chinese tradition allowing polygamy.

Butcher Chan Kok Keong, 36, fold reporters the two women had known each other since childhood and considered themselves "sisters."

He has known one of the girls for many years. She introduced him to the second girl and suggested Chan and the new girl friend should marry.

"Well, I thought to myself, if I marry Sen (the second girl), I ought to marry Choo as well," Chan said.

The three began their honeymoon tonight.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A province-wide plebiscite on the government's controversial new labor legislation has been demanded by the Vancouver Building Trades Council.

Reply From Minister Said Unsatisfactory

By AL CAMPBELL
(Daily Courier Staff Writer)

A campaign urging the construction of a chronic hospital in Kelowna is gathering momentum.

About six weeks ago, a petition containing the names of 1,500 people was sent to Health Minister Eric Martin.

Today, there are over 2,000, and judging from the interest being shown by local organizations and individuals, the list will continue to grow.

But Health Minister Martin points out that the initiation of hospital construction and the operation of the institution is a community responsibility.

He said so in a letter to Ernest Pearce, president of the Senior Citizens' Association. The group has been spearheading the drive for a chronic hospital. Mr. Martin also questions the request of the association. He wonders whether the group should press for a nursing home or infirmary for the care of bed-ridden patients.

And he quickly points out that the operation of nursing homes does not come within the scope of the program of grants-in-aid for hospital construction.

Mr. Pearce is not satisfied with the reply received from the health minister.

And he is particularly unhappy with the section of the letter dealing with the suggestion that he perhaps is in favor of a nursing home, rather than a chronic centre.

"We know what we want," he stated. "We never asked for a nursing home."

The additional 500 names have been gathered recently among various community groups such as the Elks, Canadian Legion, and many others.

Greek Cypriots Continue To Surrender Arms

NICOSIA (Reuters)—The deadline for turning in arms and explosives expired at dawn today. But British authorities said the deadline for disarmament may be extended beyond the scheduled three days to allow a complete cleanup.

Police said 613 guns, more than 2,000 bombs, 17,000 rounds of ammunition and about a ton of explosives had been surrendered from hundreds of hiding places by members of the Greek Cypriot underground organization.

Mr. Nowlan, who left the meeting before he adjourned for lunch, said "I wouldn't like to guess" whether the decision may be announced this afternoon or early next week.

MOUNTIES AND INDIANS TALK THINGS OVER

But Chiefs Still On Warpath Iroquois Council Back In Power

OHISWEKEN, Ont. (CP)—A possibility of new trouble loomed with a report that 400 Indians were coming from a Six Nations reserve near Lewiston, N.Y., to help the rebel group.

FOUR ARRESTED
Four men were arrested during the RCMP raid Friday and 133 summonses were issued to persons accused of impersonating police officers. These were members of the Indian police force set up after the hereditary chiefs took control.

Two of the four who were arrested received treatment for head cuts. Later Frank Doylter, 27, Lawrence Nantlooke, 29, John Skye, 18, and Elwood Green, 22, were remanded to Monday on charges of obstructing police. Bail was set at $500 each.

Some of the Indians ignored RCMP summonses. Ross Hill, who said he was first to be served, refused to accept the summons after a Mountie read it to him and laid it on his shoulder. It blew off and was picked up by a small boy. He took it home.

At Lewiston, Wallace (Mad Bear) Anderson, a Tuscarora Indian who helped in the Brantford area reserve during a bloodless revolt last week.

Mounties had beaten and kidnapped Indians in the raid.

"The Mounties beat several Indians, one badly," he charged. "It was gasping from lack of breath when he called me to tell me of the raid."

URGED BY WOMEN
The unarmed officers, carrying riding crops and tear gas which they did not use, used force when some of the Indian men resisted efforts to clear them from the council house. The Indians were urged to fight by a shouting group of Indian women.

Valley Fruit Crops Off To A Good Start

Government horticulturists say the Okanagan fruit crop should be off to a good start this year provided there are no severe frosts during the spring.

Early January frosts caused some bud damage, but the crop generally has suffered little during the winter.

Maurice Trumppour, district horticulturist for the Pentecost, Keremeos and Cawston areas, said most of his district has experienced some apricot and peach bud damage from the January frosts, but this could be rectified later by thinning and pruning.

Winter damage apparently has been least in the Oliver-Osoyoos area where district horticulturist D. A. Allen says crop prospects should not be affected, provided there are no hard spring frosts.

In the Kelowna area, soft fruit trees also suffered light damage, but apples and pears came through the winter in excellent shape.

There is adequate moisture, and judging from the snowfall in the mountains, there will be no shortage of irrigation water.

Provision Of New Labor Bill Distorted By Some Unionists

During the past few days since the introduction of the proposed new labor act into the B.C. Legislature, there have been loud cries of protest from certain sections of the union ranks and these have been mixed with a number of completely erroneous statements. The protests are not unexpected. When a man has been subjected to no control whatsoever, naturally he will resent being put under any control.

Labor leaders have declared that the proposed legislation will permit the courts to "prosecute and persecute us" and that it will eliminate the right to strike. To this newspaper, the proposed legislation recognizes the increasing power and importance of labor unions in the community and gives them additional prestige and responsibility in keeping with that growing power and importance.

In the proposed legislation there is nothing, absolutely nothing, curtailing the existing right of unions to strike against employers. In fact a section has been added to afford additional protection of that right by narrowing the use of court injunctions against a striking union. The strike weapon, far from being removed, is strengthened to that extent.

What the proposed new code does say, by inference, is that a union must stay within the framework of the law. If it chooses to act unlawfully it may be held accountable for the resultant damage to the injured party. That new responsibility, conforming in every respect to the laws accepted by civilized authority in a democratic state, is applied by the process of creating unions as legal entities; but along with it goes the compensation in equal measure of being able to sue as well as be sued.

Most unions in British Columbia have been scrupulous and honorable in their compliance with the laws, and for them nothing will be changed by the bill passes. But a union whose leaders defy the statutes and set in motion an unlawful strike may be required from its corporate funds to make good any damage resulting therefrom; but before its funds can be touched the union will have the opportunity to defend its actions in the courts. That is the principle of simple justice to which some labor leaders are taking exception. Among decent, self-respecting union members it is hard to believe they will find much support.

Away With The Ornaments

The law demands that you keep ice and snow off the windows and windshield of your car in order that the driver may have a clear view of the highway, but in Kelowna and elsewhere some motorists still have kewpie dolls, baby shoes and sometimes boxing gloves as well as other non-essential articles hanging in the windows or even on the windshield.

With traffic as it is today, and steadily growing, any motorist must have a clear view of traffic ahead and be in a position to see what is behind. This, certainly cannot be accomplished with the degree of safety needed today if ornaments of any kind are dangling around the windows or windshield. They certainly do not enhance the driver's opportunity for good vision. These non-essential adornments should be considered more seriously than ice or snow. After all they can be easily controlled but man can not always control weather conditions.

Macmillan's Visit To Russia Has Political Repercussions

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)
Correspondent For The Kelowna Daily Courier

LONDON — Before he left London for his new historic visit to Moscow, Prime Minister Macmillan did his best to make it clear that there were no political implications in his trip. He emphasized that there was no thought of making any political capital out of it.

No matter how sincere he was in making this statement, there can be no gain saying the fact that, now it is over, his visit to Russia and his talks with Premier Khrushchev have a very powerful political repercussions. Because of the dignity which he maintained in spite of rebuffs, and the tone of the communiqué which he and Mr. Khrushchev signed after their deliberations, Mr. Macmillan's stock has shot upwards in the last few days. This is apparent from the nature of the highly favorable, comments of newspapers of all shades of political opinion. There is not a discordant note from any side, and even Mr. Gaitskell, in his remarks in the House of Commons after Mr. Macmillan's initial report, added to the words of praise for the achievements of the prime minister.

KEY STATEMENT
One of the key statements in Mr. Macmillan's report, in the eyes of the political commentators, is the agreement that the two governments would undertake to settle disputes by negotiation and not by force. This is considered a great step forward in the relations between Russia and the Western World.

Mr. Gaitskell, however, has laid great stress on the passage in the official communiqué on the possibility of settling aside an area in Central Europe in which armed forces of both sides would be severely limited. This is, of course, in line with Mr. Gaitskell's oft-repeated policy that disengagement of the armed forces in Europe was one of the primary requisites to ending the cold war. On the last two occasions on which I spoke to Mr. Gaitskell, before the Moscow trip was even suggested, he felt very strongly on this question of disengagement of the armed forces of both East and West in Central Europe, and he was strongly in favor of the proposals of Prime Minister Raknapi of Poland that an area in which nuclear weapons would be forbidden be set aside in that part of the continent.

On the whole, there is almost unanimous agreement that the trip of Mr. Macmillan to Moscow has done a great deal of good, and his political stock has risen accordingly.

TRADE WITH RUSSIA
No time is being lost in furthering trade discussions with Russia, on which Mr. Macmillan and Mr. Khrushchev were agreed. Already a delegation sponsored by the British Chambers of Commerce is in Moscow discussing practical measures by which great trade can be achieved.

ed. One of the projects being discussed with the Russian trade authorities is that of holding two reciprocal exhibitions, one in Moscow and one in London, to place the products of each of the two countries before the buyers of the other.

This is just the first step, and it is likely that in the very near future Sir David Eccles, president of the Board of Trade, will head another and more official delegation to Russia to discuss proposals for increased trade.

CANADIAN INDUSTRY PLAN
Financial circles in London have been stirred by the announcement that the Albright and Wilson chemical industry group is planning a big industrial expansion in Canada. The new project which is to be launched in Canada, with British capital to the extent of 10 million dollars, is that of building new plants for the manufacture of sulphuric and phosphoric acids and sodium phosphates. The object is to meet the needs of industry and agriculture in Eastern Canada. Phosphoric acid is the starting point for high analysis fertilizers.

The report issued in London says the new plants will be built at Port Maitland, Ontario, which province provides the largest market in Canada for the products mentioned.

CANADIAN TRIUMPH
Another Canadian artistic triumph in London was registered when Jonathan White, young Canadian actor, played the star part in a television play, "A Memory of Two Mondays". Mr. White came to Britain last June to marry an English girl, and this was his first role in live television in this country. Mr. White, however, is a veteran of Canadian television, having appeared in "The Last of the Mohicans" and "Tugboat Annie" series filmed in Canada.

Another Canadian artist who appeared in the play along with Mr. White was Patty Thorne, from Winnipeg. She has previously appeared on British television and spent her honeymoon on board ship coming to this country. She and Mr. White made an excellent team and won acclaim for their excellent performance.

45,000-STRONG

Trouble Is No Stranger To Woodworkers' Union

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Trouble is no stranger to the muscular International Union of Woodworkers of America (IUA), which Premier Smallwood is threatening to run out of Newfoundland. The 45,000-member union has staged some tough fights, both with lumber operators and within its own ranks, though perhaps none as rugged as the one it now is embroiled in with the eastern premier.

Most of the IUA's main scraps have been in the West, where its district No. 1 has 30,000 members in British Columbia and Alberta. No. 2 district, which includes Newfoundland, consists of everything east of Alberta.

The western district was formed in 1937, an offshoot of an international union affiliated with the CIO in the United States. The eastern district was formed in 1947. The IUA became affiliated with the Canadian Labor Congress in 1948, and the so-called militancy of Communist party was in a large measure directed to ends other than legitimate trade union objectives.

"The Communist group in control of key positions undertook a rash move to quell the mounting rebellion. At a district conference in October, 1948, packed with carefully selected delegates from the local unions, they railroaded a decision to convert the membership into a new national union, dubbed the Woodworkers' Industrial Union of Canada, thus denoting secession from the international. Actually, they transferred all the real assets, local union and district funds, records, office equipment, and property, to the new organization.

ROSE IN REBELLION
"The Communist clique grossly underestimated the strong democratic sentiment permeating the ranks of the organized lumber workers. They failed the consult the membership in this drastic move. Immediately the great majority of IUA members in British Columbia rose in open rebellion, and undertook to repudiate the Communist seizure.

"The conspirators of the WIUC attempted to hold the ground which they had occupied without issue of the CLC's magazine:

"It is characteristic of lumber workers that they respect militant trade union action. This probably is the reason that for a number of years after the close of the war, they made no mass protest against the outright domination of their union by a comparatively small Labor - Progressive party - Communist group. When, after a 1946 strike, the essential democratic nature of the organization began to assert itself, the members discovered that the so-called militancy of Communist party was in a large measure directed to ends other than legitimate trade union objectives.

WIUC CUT OFF
The WIUC now has only some 350 members, in B.C. Earl Patterson, eastern district secretary - treasurer, notes now that the constitution was revised at that time to bar Communists from holding office.

Continued affiliation with the CLC also points to the IUA being free of Red domination. The congress constitution does not permit the affiliation of Red-dominated groups.

Patterson has been with the union since the eastern section was formed. Eastern President H. Landon Ladd, directing the Newfoundland operation, has been with it since 1937.

Organizers Jeff Hall and Jack McCall, engaged in the Newfoundland fight, have been with the union since 1940 and 1948, respectively. All four are Canadians.

Canada Exploring Distant Markets

By RUSSELL ELMAN

COLOMBO, Ceylon (CP) — Canadian businessmen in increasing numbers are exploring the prospects of expanding sales to the new markets now opening up in Ceylon.

Representatives of Canadian pharmaceutical and chemical companies, aircraft firms and general manufacturers for the first time are trying to sell their products in this former British colony, which gained independence within the Commonwealth in 1948.

"The East and Ceylon is a comparatively new market to us," said Bill Van, Canadian commercial councillor in Colombo. "In the past it was always too far away and most of the trade was in British hands."

Since independence, Ceylon's closest commercial ties have remained with Britain but other countries, including Canada, now are taking greater interest. A Canadian consultant firm, Sandwell International of Vancouver, has been awarded a Ceylon government contract to prepare a report on the operation of a paper mill and a Canadian contractor has offered a tender on a section of Ceylon's largest hydro-electric power project. A few years ago, a Canadian company would have attempted to compete in this field.

There has been small but steady progress in direct commercial sales from Canada to Ceylon. Imports from Canada in 1958 totalled 24,200 rupees (approximately $3,000,000) according to Ceylon trade statistics. Principal commodities were textiles, fibres, canned goods, malt for Ceylon's only brewery, newsprint, flour, ball-point pens, clocks, medical supplies and automobile spares.

CREDIT AND CONTROLS
As in other overseas markets, the Canadian exporter faces considerable obstacles. Canadian goods tend to be expensive, transportation costs are high, competition is severe from traditional sources of supply such as Britain and from the new factories of neighboring India.

"One difficulty is that our manufacturers are not willing to give long-term credit," said Van. "Selling here also requires aggressiveness and an understanding of the ways of the area."

The Ceylon government, despite present financial troubles, has relatively liberal import controls as far as dollar products are concerned. Licenses are granted for almost any product but Canadian goods are more likely to be excluded because of competition.

Canadian fish nets, for example, are twice as expensive as Japanese while there is little difference in quality. However, a 125 per cent import duty has been levied on Canadian exports to Ceylon and a high tariff designed to protect the local industry keeps out canned meats.

The overall balance of trade is heavily in Ceylon's favor. Last year Ceylonese exports totalled $10,000,000, of which ten per cent accounted for 53,800,000 rupees ($11,000,000). Other exports were coconut products, rubber and

OTTAWA REPORT

"Populate ... Or Perish!"

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

"We must populate or perish." That blunt assertion was made by John Diefenbaker two years ago, when he was Leader of the Opposition in the Parliament. He explained that Canada must increase its population through immigration, if we are to hold-let alone to develop and benefit from our natural wealth.

In 1937, a year dominated in immigration policy largely by the former Liberal Government, 282,164 immigrants came to Canada. That was by far the largest total achieved in nearly half a century. Even a total of 200,000 had not been attained in any previous year since 1913, when a record 400,870 immigrants entered Canada.

In 1938, the first year when Mr. Diefenbaker had the power to implement his belief, he settled for perishing. Immigration was slashed by more than half, to a mere 124,551 settlers, about three times our normal years loss by emigration.

Last year we admitted less than one immigrant for each hundred old Canadians. In contrast, of every hundred residents celebrating Christmas in Canada in 1913, five had arrived since the previous Christmas.

THE DAYS OF GUTS
The years before the outbreak of World War One were our Golden Decade of Immigration. "The men in sheepskin coats" constituted the most colorful element in that courageous flood which settled our empty prairies, building their own sod shacks and seeking no welfare aid from the state. Between 1901 and 1911, the population of Saskatchewan and Alberta was more than quintupled, and nobody let out the gutless squawk that a hard-working immigrant had put him out of his job.

In those days, the aim of Canadians was to have our empty spaces filled, and the aim of immigrants was, as now, to work hard to make good. Canada benefited. But today, many people want to slam our Immigration Door, despite the assertion by economists that immigration raises consumption and creates more jobs than new workers; and despite the discovery by Australia that a young country can comfortably absorb an immigrant flow equal to four per cent of its population each year.

During an interesting debate on immigration last week, many M.P.s protested against some aspect of our slammed door policy. One glaring example was the report of the steady rise in the length of the waiting list of would-be immigrants from Italy. That country supplied more immigrants than any other last year; the first time any country other than Britain or the U.S. has achieved that place of honor. Yet the present Italian waiting list will take two years and three months to be admitted at present rates.

WE MUST CHOOSE
World population has doubled in the past century and will double again in the next forty years. This immense increase is exerting pressure for the full utilization of all empty but habitable land areas, especially agricultural land where food can be produced. John Diefenbaker was correct when he said, two years ago, that we must populate or perish; today as Prime Minister, he has the obligation to initiate policies which will save Canada from perishing.

Against this background, a timely and far-sighted plea for an agricultural revival, especially for immigrants, was made in Parliament by Hubert Badanal, Liberal M.P. from Fort William and himself an immigrant from Italy.

He referred to the small dairy farmers and truck farmers in his Lakehead district, operating what by prairie standards are small pieces of land, yet making their living wholly under those difficult conditions. Such farmers, he rightly urged, need the temporary help of loans to acquire machinery and stock in that and in similar areas where the terrain is more rugged and the climate less kindly than elsewhere.

"An important aspect of the small farm," Mr. Badanal argued, "is that a farm is a good place to bring up a large family. A lot of people are entering Canada as immigrants, so let us start a number of small farms where there is plenty of room and fresh air, which is an ideal environment in which to raise children, whose worth to Canada transcends any consideration of small assistance in the way of a loan."

That plea by Mr. Badanal was aimed to help existing small farmers, and to point the way for hungry immigrants, who with such aid would help to populate the empty stretches of our ten provinces as well as those promised eleventh and twelfth provinces.

It is true; it is urgent: we must populate, or perish.

School Trustees Approve Move To Study Merit Rating System

The much-discussed matter of a merit rating for teachers has again come up before trustees of school district 23 (Kelowna).

A merit rating plan would allow boards to pay teachers in accordance with their considered ability rather than the present system of a scale for various "grades" in teaching.

The matter came up at a recent meeting of the board when trustees were asked to consider suggestions for a brief to be submitted to the Chant Royal Commission on Education due to appear here in mid-April.

Board member J. W. Maddock said "it's about time we crystallized our way of thinking on this matter. This system of across-the-board increases for good, bad and indifferent teachers is not good enough."

The only method of rating now possible is the board's power to use or disallow the present increments paid to teachers.

CAUTIONS BOARD

District superintendent Gordon Johnson agreed that a merit plan would be acceptable but cautioned the board on some of the complications. "It works well for good teachers and those with less ability," he said, "but the trouble begins with the majority of those in the middle." Dr. Brian Holmes, newly-appointed trustee reported similar apprehension among British doctors with the inception of a merit scheme for medical men in Great Britain.

The system was included in the socialized medicine legislation.

School Cost Sharing Plan Is Criticized

Trustees of School District 23 (Kelowna), have asked the board's district representatives to endorse a resolution protesting the government's policy of sharing school costs.

The resolution, in two parts, allows the district representatives to register protests on (1) the lack of information regarding component sharing; (2) the continued reduction in the government's share.

The government's share in Kelowna's school costs this year is 53 per cent, down from the 59 per cent last year.

In a letter circulated to the district, the trustees explained the cost-sharing figures for components would not be available until the middle of April.

The letter added "this is in accordance with the act, and the board can do nothing about it."

Another resolution, representing the trustees' protest, calls for the transfer of $30,000 for internal reconstruction of the two old Rutland elementary schools, "to bring them up to standard."

The funds to be transferred are a surplus in the cost of building the Raymer Avenue School. The plan has been approved by the minister of education as a shareable expense.

Valley Multiple Listing Service Paying Dividends

The newly-instituted Multiple Listing Service for the Okanagan is beginning to pay off—for agent and buyer alike.

Charles Williams, manager of the local office reports over three million dollars worth of property has been listed with the co-operative service in a scant two weeks since its inception.

The first sale has recently been transacted. A local salesman, Charles Hill has sold a house on Bernard Ave. only three days after it was originally listed.

Mr. Hill also obtained the first listing recorded by the valley-wide service.

Mr. Williams remarked "it thus keeps up, we will have to hire more office staff."

tion and Dr. Holmes said while it was at first not thought too highly of, it "turned out very well."

The feeling of the board was that the only way the system would work, would be for a mutual agreement to be made between the teachers and board.

"We should at least be able to draw up a working plan," said Mr. Maddock.

The local board will endorse the B.C. School Trustees Association resolution asking that an attempt be made to "work out something."

Plans Moving Ahead For KLT One-Act Plays

Kelowna's only suitable show-place for both local and travelling productions, the old Empress Theatre, is a stir nightly at present.

Preparation for the public of three one-act plays is currently engaging the spare time of many here. Final attraction on this season's calendar, they will be on view next Thursday and Friday, March 19 and 20.

"Lot's Wife", a comedy under the direction of Ethelwyn Logie, will have Mary Kerr, Erika Petzold, Jocelyn Thompson, and Roy Lobb in the cast.

Mary Sundin is guiding the cast of a tragedy, "White Iris", with players including Ruby Jessop, Primrose Upton, Una Hughes and Diane Springer.

A second comedy, "The Invisible Worm", with Kathryn Best directing, has a cast of three—Alice Winsby, Bruce Hedges and Tom Marsh.

One or more of these plays will be entered in the North Okanagan Drama Festival, the week of April 20. A detachable form will be incorporated in the program to allow the audiences to match opinions with this later adjudication, and express preferences.

"Knuckle-Duster" Carrying Boys Are Re-Admitted To Classrooms

Two students at Kelowna Senior High School have been re-admitted to school following a suspension imposed on the lads when they were found to have carried "knuckle-dusters" in the classroom. Both boys are in grade 10.

The youths were allowed to return to their classes after appearing before the board of trustees and giving their word no similar incidents would take place. Both boys claimed they had done the initial work on the "dusters" in the school metal shop, but had not been observed by the teacher.

The parents of one of the boys appeared before the board, and stated they had not thought their son to be serious about using the weapons.

"It certainly won't happen again," the father said.

UNFORTUNATE TIME

Board chairman, C. E. Sladen, told the boy his action came at a "very unfortunate time," in light of the recent tragic occurrence at the school. (A 16-year-old youth died in Kelowna hospital a few weeks ago, following a scuffle in the hallway at the school.)

The boy assured the board he had not realized the seriousness of his behaviour and after expressing his desire to return to school, he was re-admitted.

The second boy's case was deemed "pathetic" by the trustees.

The 15-year-old appeared with a local social worker who reported to the board the boy was "a direct product of a broken home." He added that the boy was at present being cared for by the social service as his parents, who live in Glenmore, were not capable of caring for the boy.

The social worker admitted the boy had been in trouble before and was at present on probation. He told of the difficulty the lad had experienced in being placed in a number of foster homes, and the boy's determination to obtain enough education to enter a vocational school.

When district superintendent Gordon Johnson said he felt the boy "needed a father," the case worker concurred. He said the boy's behaviour had always been better when he was in a home with a man he liked.

In letting the boy re-enter the school, Mr. Sladen said, "you will face extra work in order to catch up—we have not got room for a 'seatwarmer.'"

"We are behind you," he said, "but it is your future."

Local Teen-Age Safe Driving Eliminations Start In April

Local eliminations will begin in April for the fourth annual Jaycee-sponsored teen-age safe driving road-race.

Kelowna will be one of the 200 centres across Canada entering the competitions which will be climaxed with the national finals at Galt, Ontario, July 10 and 12.

An estimated 25,000 Canadian boys and girls are expected to compete for a total of $1,750 and other prizes.

Jack O'Rourke, of Chatham,

Ontario, president of the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce said the competitions are designed to "prove and improve" their driving habits and attitudes. Since 1956, more than 60,000 Canadian teen-agers have participated.

In the local eliminations, the young people take written tests on traffic knowledge and a five-part test of driving skills. Any one under 20, can enter if he or she has a driver's licence and has been free of a moving traffic violation in the preceding six months.

Winners of the community contests advance to the provincial finals in June, with the winners from 12 areas of Canada travelling to the national finals.

Contestants at Galt will take three days of tough driving tests, written quizzes and psycho-physical examinations. The sponsoring organizations are concerned over the serious traffic accident situation. Through the road-race, they are providing teen-agers with an opportunity of acquiring a definite sense of responsibility as safe and courteous drivers.

Brunch Party Fun For Special Days

Weekends, vacations and special holidays provide excellent opportunities to a more leisurely, more elaborate meal.

One of the easiest and most pleasant ways to entertain friends is at a breakfast party. Often the timing of this meal overlaps with lunch time, and almost automatically it becomes a "brunch".

PARTY MEND

For a really gala occasion, plan a party-style menu. Serve fresh fruit in season—such as melon with a lemon wedge, minted avocado pear, fresh pineapple, freshly stewed rhubarb, broiled grapefruit, or fresh berries.

Make scrambled eggs and serve in toast baskets, or make one of the many varieties of French Toast to serve with maple syrup. Typical breakfast meats—sausages, bacon, or ham—can be served with or instead of the egg dish. Ordinary toast can be replaced by toasted fruit bread, fresh doughnuts, toasted English muffins or scones, warm sweet rolls, or a coffee ring. Bring out coveted jams or preserves, and make lots of coffee to last through the leisurely meal.

PREPARE AHEAD

So that the hostess may enjoy her guests and the meal she has planned for them, she will organize her preparation, and work well ahead.

Table can be set, fruit can be prepared and refrigerated, toast baskets can be made, ready for reheating. Scrambled egg mixture can be ready, and meat can be laid in the pans.

Coffee can be measured and rolls or doughnuts can be ready for heating. Then when guests start to arrive, a few minutes in the kitchen will give ample time to set a delicious party meal before them!

BURLAP GOES GRAND

By TRACY ADRIAN

Burlap, which used to be strictly for bags—in the commercial rather than the fashion sense—has gone grand this season and really does show up to advantage in some of the smartest of the new handbags. This one is done elegantly with cowhide trim, brass detail and a unique zipper closing. It comes in a choice of exciting shades, as well as in black, white and stripes.

CARS Education Week Planned On Province-Wide Basis In May

An interesting report from Roderick Macleod, delegate to the provincial annual meeting in Vancouver earlier in the month, was heard at the monthly meeting of CARS held this week.

Of general interest are figures quoted for some of the estimated expenditures for the coming year: staff salaries, $246,000; upkeep of mobile units, $34,000; bed and board for in-patients, $27,000; drugs, $15,000; rehabilitation and research program, $40,000.

Other expenses such as housing, office expenses, conventions, cost of raising funds and advertising and contribution to the national program bring the total expenditure up to $438,000. These figures are shown to give an idea of how CARS has grown from an idea in 1949 to this large concern in 1959 when the tenth anniversary will be marked.

There is much work still to be done, and conference is felt that society will continue to grow, but this is only possible with the continued support and interest of the public. For this reason it was thought advisable to have a province-wide week of education on CARS which is going to be held May 10 to 18.

PEACHLAND

PEACHLAND—A large crowd attended the very interesting cooking demonstration held in the Athletic Hall recently, sponsored by the B.C. Power Commission.

A complete, modern kitchen was set up in one end of the hall, having all the latest electrical appliances for Mrs. Elsie Dick of Vernon, to use for her demonstrations.

Such delicious foods as Scotch pan-cakes, coffee cakes, pizza pie and a pineapple upside-down cake, the latter made in an electric frying pan, were produced in a very short time by Mrs. Dick, who kept up a running commentary as she worked.

The PTA made coffee, while the food cooked earlier was served to the gathering. An electric fry pan was won by Mrs. Ethel Young as a door prize.

Mrs. M. Twinnane of Kamloops was the house guest of Mrs. A. Small's this week.

Mrs. Howard Sismey and young son Donnie, have returned from Portland, Oregon.

Mr. S. Crowe has arrived from Calgary recently having purchased the Pincushion Bay Auto Court, formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. Ibbotson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Turner, of Vernon, motored to Princeton at the weekend to attend the square dance party.

At the March meeting of the Jr. W.A. to the United Church held recently, plans were discussed for the annual St. Patrick's Day supper and arrangements finalized for the affair.

Winfield Guild In Rummage Sale

WINFIELD—President Mrs. E. Crowder was hostess to the Evening Branch of St. Margaret's Guild when the regular monthly meeting was held.

Arrangements were completed to hold a rummage sale in the Anglican Parish Hall in Kelowna on Wednesday, March 18, in conjunction with St. Michael's Guild. Plans were also finalized for the Easter bazaar which will be held in St. Margaret's Parish Hall on April 1, working with the Afternoon and Okanagan Centre Branches of St. Margaret's Guild.

There will be home cooking and needlework stalls, guessing competitions, and afternoon tea will be served.

Materials were given out for articles to be made for the bazaar.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was held and the hostesses Mrs. R. Stubbs and Miss C. Beasley served refreshments.

Girls Wax Catty In British House

By RONALD THOMSON

LONDON (AP)—A feminine voice rang out in the House of Commons: "Oh, Edith, you really are an ass!"

The House could hardly believe its ears Wednesday night. But there was more.

Laborite Dr. Edith Summerskill glared at her tormentor, Conservative member Dame Irene Ward.

"Vulgar abuse," snorted Dr. Summerskill.

The exchange convulsed the House where even in the most barbed remarks an opponent is addressed as "the honorable member."

Dr. Summerskill should be called "the honorable member for Warrington"—never Edith.

And as for calling an honorable member an ass, well, it's just not done.

CALLS HER CATTY

"I am surprised," said Dr. Edith, "that Dame Irene should be so feline."

"Well, really," retorted Dame Irene, "it is too ridiculous to take that line."

The line taken by Dr. Edith came during debate on the national health service. She claimed American companies were among firms flooding the British market with high-priced drugs.

Following Dame Irene's outburst, Laborite Maurice Edith man jumped to his feet. "Is it in order to describe the honorable member from Warrington as an ass?"

House Chairman Charles Rogers looked innocently ahead. "I didn't hear a word," he said.

The tiff blew over as quickly as it started. The two ladies sat back in tight-lipped silence as debate resumed in a drone of masculine chatter.

Polite bellows aside, they are good friends.

St. Patrick's Bazaar To Be Held Tuesday

A St. Patrick's bazaar will be held on Tuesday, March 17, at St. Joseph's Hall by the CWL, beginning at 2.30 p.m.

Tea will be served in the afternoon, and offered for sale will be home cooking, fancy work, aprons, candy, and a white elephant sale.

Games will be an added attraction in the evening to the affair which continues all day.

Hospital Benefits From Gifts Presented By Local RN Group

This week the Registered Nurses' Association of B.C., Kelowna Chapter, presented to the Kelowna General Hospital two utility carts and one foment sterilizer which they have purchased for use within the institution. To be used expressly in the nursing department, these are items of equipment which were badly needed.

The ever growing complexity of and need for increased supplies has for some time necessitated providing more adequate means of conveyance from the source of supply to the point of usage; and the nurses, because of their familiarity with this particular problem, have readily and generously given funds to provide these carts.

The foment sterilizer is an Dacca in East Pakistan is a item of equipment directly concerned with patient care; and linen, wrap-around costumes,

Total cost of $328 for these items represents a remarkably generous support of the hospital, and is most indicative of the spirit that prevails in the nursing profession in Kelowna.

The gifts were handed over to the hospital by Mrs. Charles Patrick on behalf of the Kelowna Chapter, and were received by Mr. F. J. Willis on behalf of the hospital board, and Miss Sinclair on behalf of the nursing service.

Mr. Willis in receiving the donations expressed the pleasure of the board and emphasized the value of a group of nurses who find satisfaction in supporting their community hospital.

"Golden Rules" For Carpet Care

DO . . . turn your rugs around to face in different directions once or twice a year.

DO . . . rearrange your furniture occasionally on wall-to-wall carpet to form new traffic lanes.

DO . . . save your rug and carpet labels. If you need to have wool tufts replaced or tape bindings repaired the pattern number and quality of your floor coverings will save time and ensure a more efficient job.

1. DON'T . . . shake or snap rugs out of windows or doors trying to "dust" them. Never beat a rug against a flat surface or over a line. The snapping action may break the backing yarns even though they are firmly bound.

2. DON'T . . . use alkaline detergents—they damage both color and fabric.

THE WEEK'S NEWS

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Newfoundland's drawn-out pulpwood strike had a fatal moment during the week when a sporadic series of violent developments was climaxed by the death of a policeman.

The Newfoundland Federation of Labor already has gone on record as asking that an impartial royal commission be appointed to determine the facts of the fatal accident and "where the responsibility lies."

The provincial federation, which supports the striking International Woodworkers of America in its dispute, said in a statement that "the trade union does not condone violence, but regrets that in cases of extreme provocation violence is sometimes bound to occur despite all reasonable safeguards that might be taken to prevent it."

In referring to the fracas at Badger, Nfld., the federation split on the question of the " tactics " of the IWA—made the call for the royal commission inquiry. Earlier the federation had voted to condemn the "anti-labor legislation" enacted by the Newfoundland legislature which decertified two IWA locals in central and western areas of the province.

An IWA spokesman said the Badger incident would go down as "the worst demonstration of police brutality in Canadian history."

He said the loggers moved to the side of a road when ordered to do so by police. "The police then marched between them in two lines, turned and bore down on the men with their clubs swinging in brutal fashion."

IRAQI REVOLT

A confused revolt broke out in oil-rich Iraq but was quickly squelched by Premier Abdel Karim Kassam, who himself seized power in a revolution last July.

Kassam sent troops and bombers against Mosul, the northern centre of the revolt, and set off rejoicing in Baghdad when he announced that Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, leader of the uprising, had been slain.

After the uprising was crushed, Baghdad demonstrators hanged President Nasser of the United Arab Republic in effigy, blaming him for the trouble.

The rebel Iraqi officers had made clear that they were out to check the growing Communist influence on Kassam's government and swing it instead toward Nasser's policy of a unified Arab "nation" allied with neither the Soviet bloc nor the West.

BERLIN ISSUE

Russian Premier Khrushchev ended an eight-day barnstorming tour of East Germany in which his main topics were the Berlin crisis and "friendship."

Khrushchev joined East German satellite leaders in pledging to keep the road open between West Berlin and the West—but only on condition that the Allied occupation of the city ends. Western spokesmen said this would mean the Allies giving up their rights in Berlin.

Earlier, Khrushchev proposed to guarantee the independence of West Berlin with neutral or Big Four troops—again providing the occupation ends.

Gov't Moves To Bond Car, Trailer Dealers

VICTORIA (CP) — Several

changes to the Motor Vehicles Act were presented to the legislature Friday in moves to provide for bonding of B.C. car and trailer dealers and for a uniform traffic ticket and to make parking lots and private passageways part of the province's highway system.

The amendments to the act providing for bonding dealers prohibits any dealer from obtaining a licence unless he posts a $5,000 bond to ensure faithful and honest conduct. It also provides that any person who sustains damages may bring action against the insurer who holds the dealer's bond.

Attorney-General Bonner, in introducing the amendments, said he has received many complaints from persons who claimed they had been victims of shady dealers.

The amendment making parking lots part of the highway system will mean an important change as far as some insurance policies are concerned because generally they limit liability to accidents which occur "on the highway."

These words are added to the definition of a highway: "and every private place or passage-way to which the public has access or is invited for the purpose of parking or servicing of vehicles."

Makeup of traffic tickets, to be of standard design throughout the province, will be provided by a government order-in-council after the amendment on uniform traffic tickets is passed in the legislature.

The Motor Vehicles Act amendments were given first reading in the House Friday.

Third reading was given to an amendment to the Revenue Act which will permit the province to issue a certificate when it becomes free of net debt. It will permit the government to declare itself free of net debt when its sinking funds total equals the

Alleged Girl Slayer Held

TORONTO (CP) — Police said

a man arrested after a young married woman was held prisoner in a stolen car for eight hours and raped will be questioned in connection with Monday's strange slaying of Patricia Lupton, 12.

Police said the man being held in the rape case is 30, the estimated age of Patricia's slayer, and was wearing a three-quarter length grey coat, the same type of coat the stranger is reported to have been wearing Monday when he picked up the Lupton girl after luring her to a suburban shopping centre on the pretence of a babysitting job.

A man posing as a detective Friday night picked up a 17-year-old housewife at a downtown intersection after she finished work. Police said he told her: "I'm a police officer. I'm going to take you over to headquarters to check you for prostitution."

Officers said he then drove her to the northwest section of the city, where he held her prisoner and attacked her repeatedly. Later the man drove to a restaurant and entered it after removing the woman's shoes so she wouldn't follow him.

Yama Bahama Becomes Ambitious After Win Over Canadian Fighter

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — With a decisive victory over Canadian champion Will Greaves to his credit, Yama Bahama became ambitious today.

The classy boxer from the Bahamas now wants shots at Dick Tiger, the British Empire middleweight champion from Nigeria, and former world middleweight ruler Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer.

He may get the crack at the Tiger, either in London or here. "We're ready to go over whenever they say," said Yama's manager, Bobby Melnick. "I understand the London promoters wanted Greaves. After this big win, they'll have to deal with us. We're ready. And if Basilio and Fullmer are looking for action, Yama is ready to oblige."

Jack Barrett, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, said there was a good possibility Tiger would come here.

"If he does, we'll try and make Yama and Tiger for the Empire title right here in the Garden," said Barrett.

Bahama looked as though he belonged with the top 10 middleweights in winning the unanimous 10-round decision over the budding, young Canadian from Edmonton at the Garden Friday night.

Greaves was a perfect foil for the sharpshooting, fisherman fighter from Elmont, N.Y., 160 pounds, kept wading in and Yama, 153, kept popping him with stinging left jabs. Those jabs kept Greaves off balance and set him up for Yama's flashing left-right combinations to the head and body. A fast 10-punch flurry in the last round almost dropped Greaves.

The husky, 23-year-old Canadian tried to wear down his lighter, 26-year-old rival with body smashes. Yama managed to evade or block most of the power punches except in the fourth, seventh and eighth rounds, Wilf's best rounds. Greaves was penalized the sixth round for low blows.

Referee Art Mercante had Bahama in front 6-4 in rounds. The two judges made Yama's margin larger. Artie Adello made it 7-3 and Leo Birnbaum, 8-2. The AP card had Yama ahead 7-3.

Sutcliffe Saves New Zealand's Cricket Honors

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (Reuters)—

A fine innings of 61 by left-hander Bert Sutcliffe, playing in his last test match, today saved New Zealand from collapse in the second test against England.

Sutcliffe announced his retirement before going out to bat in a near gale when New Zealand had lost their first three wickets for 11 runs after winning the toss.

Two hours and 35 minutes later he was cheered all the way back to the pavilion after taking part in a sixth-wicket stand of 57 with John Sparling and collecting seven fours and one six.

New Zealand, who lost the first test by an innings and 99 runs, fielded the same team and was all out for 181 at 20 minutes before close of play. The English MCC touring side was 0 for 0 when stumps were drawn.

TEXT OF LETTER

Text of the letter received from the health minister, reads as follows:

"This will acknowledge your letter of March 4, 1959.

"If a proposal is advanced for the construction of a chronic treatment and convalescent hospital at Kelowna I shall be most happy to have that proposal reviewed fully. I must point out, however, that the initiation of hospital construction and the operation of hospitals is a community responsibility. I do not know whether you have discussed this matter with the board of the Kelowna General Hospital. It is a fact, however, that successful operation of a chronic treatment and convalescent hospital necessitates that the chronic unit be either operated or very closely associated with a general hospital.

From this correspondence with you, I am still apprehensive that what you have in mind is not a chronic treatment and convalescent hospital, but rather a nursing home or infirmary for the care of bedridden aged and infirm who require expert nursing attention in accordance with their doctors' instructions, but who are not likely to utilize a great deal in the way of physiotherapy, occupational therapy and other rehabilitation measures. The operation of nursing homes or like institutions does not come within the scope of the program of grants-in-aid for hospital construction."

The strike had a bright side too for thousands of motorists who drove past empty booths on the toll bridges.

But for judges, emergency workers in institutions and those who chose to ignore the picket lines, it was a chilly experience. There was no heating in the government buildings.

Nurses performed necessary services for patients at provincial mental hospitals, then joined the picket lines as they were relieved. Prison and correctional institutions were not struck.

General secretary Ed O'Connor of the Civil Servants Association said the court case will decide whether the government employees have the right to strike or not. Association officials said members throughout the province had indicated they were ready to continue the strike if need be.

Opening lead—five of spades.
Lots of situations that appear to be simply matters of guesswork for declarer, turn out, upon analysis not to be guesses at all, but susceptible to a clear answer.

Suppose declarer ducks the spade lead in dummy and wins East's ten with the queen. He can count six rapid winners. He also notes that a successful finesse in either diamonds or clubs will bring home the contract; in fact, he sees that if both finesses succeed he is assured of twelve tricks.

It would appear that it does not matter much which finesse he chooses to take first, but actually this is not the case.

Suppose, for example, South takes the club finesse at trick two. East wins and returns a spade. Declarer now has eight tricks available. When he then takes the diamond finesse he is defeated as West cashes his established spade suit.

But if declarer enters dummy at trick two with a heart and takes the diamond finesse, he makes the contract. No return could defeat him, even though the later club finesse lost to East.

The two vital kings can be distributed to the defenders in four different ways. Either West has both kings, or East has them, or West has the club and not the diamond king, or West has the diamond and not the club king.

These are the only possibilities. If either opponent has both kings, the contract is sure to make. One finesse will work and the other will fail, but declarer makes eleven tricks. If West has the club and not the diamond king, declarer makes twelve tricks. These three cases are not of concern to declarer, since he makes the contract regardless of which suit he leads first.

But in the fourth case—where West has the diamond, not the club king—it is urgent that the diamond finesse be taken first. West's only sure entry should be immediately disposed of. Declarer should enter to this possibility, because it is the only one where his choice of plays can constitute the difference between making and losing the contract.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By ESTRELLITA

FOR TOMORROW

Even if unexpected situations arise, you can have a satisfactory day if you take things in stride. Keep usefully busy if you have chores to do and, if your day is given to leisure, try to spend some time outdoors.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that the coming year should be notable for the strides you can make in upping your financial status. Although you may be obliged to deal with some minor problems in this connection during April, September and November, do not become discouraged. These phases will pass—with your help, of course—and you can go on to reap satisfying rewards for your endeavors.

May and June should be fine for job matters, and December looks highly promising on all counts. Domestic, social and sentimental relationships are favored for most of 1959, with emphasis on the romantic angle in July, October and December.

A child born on this day will be intelligent, romantic and adventurous, as well.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW
Fine Mercury influences on Monday will benefit all those in the writing professions; those engaged in communications generally. It will be important for all to curb emotionality, however.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If Monday is your birthday, the coming year should prove highly stimulating where job and monetary affairs are concerned. May and June aspects will be especially generous in the former connection, and your financial chart presages gains during July and December, as well as in May and June.

Social activities and sentimental matters will be under excellent influences in July, October and December, and there is also promise of increased personal and business prestige during the latter month.

A child born on this day will be intelligent, romantic and adventurous, as well.

HALF AND HALF
CHALFONT ST. PETER, Eng. (CP)—After a resident of this Buckinghamshire town complained about a street light outside his house, council decided to paint half the globe black. The unpainted side shines over the street.

Quarantine Regulations Rarely Imposed Now

By Herman N. Sundesen, M.D.

You don't hear much about quarantine anymore. A hundred years ago quarantine regulations were often harsh and unreasonable. The traveller and the merchant suffered considerably from them. Yet, even these stringent regulations were powerless to halt the great plagues of our history.

Cholera, which ravaged Asia and Europe and even invaded America; the plague or the Black Death, the greatest killer of all; smallpox; yellow fever; typhus—all took their tragic toll despite drastic quarantine restrictions.

Quarantine, actually, is a term developed during the Middle Ages and applied to the 40 days compulsory isolation or detention period of both persons and merchandise which has been exposed to these pestilences in some way.

At that time it was thought, mistakenly, that these diseases were spread entirely by contagion and that this would be dissipated during a period of 40 days.

COMMON PRACTICE
Almost to the end of the 19th century, it was common practice to keep infected ships offshore in strict isolation for 40 days and the crews and passengers in prison-like quarantine stations for a similar period.

These measures, we know now, were stupid. Yet, it took centuries to change them. Medical advances, unfortunately, came slowly, too.

It wasn't until 1884 that it was proved that cholera was due to infection by a specific germ. Ten years later it was shown that the plague was due to a bacillus.

Quarantine practices were made less stringent in 1903 but, because of World War I, it was not until 1920 that most of the recommendations were put into effect.

Through the ensuing years, additional changes have been made. The advent of air travel, naturally, required a general re-shuffling of procedures.

Moreover, the development of more efficient health services, the wider use of immunizations, and the introduction of powerful insecticides and better techniques of application have curbed the pestilential diseases.

ISOLATE CASES
Seldom do we impose quarantine these days. When we find infectious cases, we isolate them in hospitals. Persons who have been in contact with them are placed under surveillance. They must report any illness occurring within 14 days.

Yes, we have come a long way in a relatively few years.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
E. B. D.: Can you give me any suggestions as to what I can eat to create a thicker and warmer blood? I have had cold hands for years and it takes Answer: Cold hands and feet do not necessarily indicate anything wrong with the blood. Diet cannot make the blood thicker and warmer. In cases of anemia, a diet rich in iron and vitamins is often beneficial. An examination of the blood should be made by your doctor.

"HMS Pinafore," one of the popular Gilbert and Sullivan light operas, was first played in London in 1878.

LOSE CUSTOMERS
MILDENHALL, England (CP) — Four public houses in this Suffolk community have closed down in the last 12 months. Television is seen one of the reasons for the drop in trade.

BIG AUDIENCE
LONDON (CP) — There were 9,000,000 radio and television licences in the United Kingdom in January, 145,000 more than in December.

Cream Of Curlers Are Competing In Bonspiel

Total of 28 rinks from all points in the province today are competing for honors in the seventh annual "Ogopogonette" bonspiel which is currently under way in Kelowna.

The cream of the distaff rock throwers are putting up some of the keenest competition ever witnessed since the 'spiel was organized.

Even before daybreak the enthusiastic first-draw rinks were bound for the curling rink to compete in the 16's in the "A" event.

The bonspiel winds up Sunday night.

Top prize in the "A" event is the Grand Challenge Export Trophy.

Other cups are: "B" event—T. Eaton Co. Ltd. trophy; "C" event—Long Super Drugs Ltd. trophy, and "D" event—Super Valu trophy.

In addition, the first rink knocked out will be treated to a free dinner at The Willow Inn and the rink winning the most games will receive planters.

SPIEL CONVENERS

Conveners for the three-day 'spiel are Glad Fisher, Gerlie Johnson, Gladys Watson, Dorothy Wilt, Una Long and Jan Thompson.

The following rinks are competing in the 16's in the "A" event: Watson, Kelowna vs. Raloff, Grand Forks; Cousins, Peachland vs. Donnelly, Kelowna; Gregory, Kelowna vs. Hill, Kelowna and Holland, Kelowna vs. Norrish, Chilliwack.

In the two hours of the morning—at 2 o'clock to be exact, these ladies managed to play completely out of the 16's and 8's and are now competing in the 4's in the "A" event.

Rough of Kelowna defeated Hutton, Kelowna; Walker, Kelowna defeated Dunn, Kelowna; and Strand, Kamloops and Whinton, Peachland drew a bye and are now in the 4's.

In the "B" event, the 8's commenced at 1:45 this afternoon. Here is the lineup of the play.

Kelowna vs. Donnelly, Kelowna; Shirreff, Kelowna vs. Cousins, Peachland.

Gregory, Kelowna and Millham, Vancouver are already in the 8's.

Semi-final rounds for the "A" and "C" events will start at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, with the "B" and

"D" semis going at 3:45 Sunday afternoon.

In spite of the busy schedule the girls will manage to partake of some entertainment with a banquet in the Royal Anne Hotel tonight at 6:30 and a breakfast Sunday at the home of Mrs. Marn DeMara, 1858 Abbott Street.

Lions Give Capozzi Vote Of Confidence

Herb Capozzi yesterday got a vote of confidence from the B.C. Lions executive.

Two of the football club's directors—Hec MacDonald and Bill Surphiss—supported by a third—Harry Ornest—had earlier asked for the resignation of the club's manager, in a letter to president Harry Spring.

Although content of the letter is regarded by all members of the Lions brass as a private club matter, it somehow leaked out and yesterday was a matter of public speculation. The three directors involved and the Lions executive disclaim responsibility for the leak.

MEETING SET

At a hastily called press conference yesterday, the executive presented Capozzi's massive reply (three and one-half typewritten pages of footslog) to the charges contained in the letter, plus an executive resolution expressing full confidence in Capozzi.

Capozzi, the executive, and the three directors will have a chance to say everything they want to say at a full directors' meeting, tentatively scheduled for March 23.

CHARGES LISTED

Basing their demand for Capozzi's resignation on their own investigations, plus a lengthy letter from ex-coach Clem Crowe, MacDonald and Surphiss alleged that Herb had been responsible for mismanagement, team dissension, loss of possible players, interference with the coach, poor relations with the Pacific National Exhibition (operators of Empire Stadium) and more poor relations with the press, radio, TV and the brewery that sponsors the weekly quarterback luncheons during the football season.

Canucks Push Packers To Rim Of Extinction

By GEORGE INGLIS
(Courier Sports Editor)

VERNON—The Kelowna Packers' footpads faltered again last night, along the Allan Cup trail.

Playing a much improved brand of hockey over Wednesday night, before close to 3,000 people in the Vernon Civic Arena, they were nevertheless hustled to the brink of extinction by the live-wire Vernon Canadians, who beat them 6-4 and took the lead in their league final series.

Vernon shared the wealth as they bumped, battered, skated and checked the Packers into subjection, forcing them back twice after they had tied the score.

DOCTORS BUSY

Referee Ross Valliere called only nine minors in the game, but the Packers dressing had two doctors working busily with novocaine and adhesive tape, patching up the traces of the infractions that went uncalled.

Bugs Jones, still recuperating from pleurisy, had to have a needle to quell the pain in his side after being speared heavily in the short ribs by Willie Schmidt.

Brian Roche, hurtling by the Vernons net, was helped into the boards by Gerry Kernaghan, and suffered torn muscles of the ribs.

Russ Kowalchuk's bad ankle, result of a slashing attack in the second game of the series, took a two-hander on the same spot from Sherm Blair. Kowalchuk took six inches of butt end from Frank King, and Kowalchuk was thumbed to the box, while "Winkie" grinned happily.

Moe Young paced the Packers' attack with two, and singles were added by Harry Smith and Russ Kowalchuk, but the Packers found the swarming Canucks were too many and too often for them.

BLUES HUSTLED

Bill Swarbrick, Jim Moro, Odie Lowe, Merv Bidoski, Ron Morgan and Art Hart scored the Vernons goals, as the blue shirts hustled their way to a lead in the series, seven points to five, on two wins and three ties.

Swarbrick's opener came at the 41 second mark, when Stecyk carried in deep, got it out to King, and Swarbrick jumped on the rebound of King's shot. A minute later Jones carried into Vernon territory, did a tight circle, drew Stecyk out of position, then slid the puck to Smith for a point shot that whistled by Gordon on the short side.

Kowalchuk got his penalty for his brush with King, and seconds later Bidoski rammed it home on the power play, at 8:49. Lowe got in the way of a clearing pass, controlled the puck as it bounced off himself, then lobbed it high into the rigging at 17:57, to end the period scoring.

Young scored the lone marker of the fractious second period, as the Packers commanded the play, but were stymied from hitting the scoreboard more often by the superb goal tending of Gordon. Young took Smith's pass at his own blue, with both clubs shy one man, and skated all the way to drive a forehead home.

KNOTTED SCORE

Kowalchuk knotted the score at 8:39 of the third period, as he wheeled in on the right side, while Goyer tied Morgan up, but 58 seconds later, coach George Agar dug the puck off the boards behind the Packers' net and put it on the stick of Moro, who triggered it between Gathern's legs.

There were just 29 seconds left on the clock when coach Jack O'Reilly gambled on the six man attack, and Young tipped in Goyer's drive on goal to make the gamble pay off, and send the game into overtime.

King got the draw on a face-off in the Kelowna end at 6:09 of the overtime frame, to put the Canucks in the lead once again, as he got it back to Morgan and he drove the looping point shot into the twine.

O'Reilly's second gamble on the extra forward didn't pay off, when Hart took Lowe's pass to fire the puck into the unguarded net and set the game on ice.

Seventh game in the series will be played here at 8 o'clock tonight, and it's do or die for the Packers, with a tie game being enough for the Canucks.

SUMMARY

First period — 1. Vernon, Swarbrick (King, Bidoski), 4:1. 2. Kelowna, Smith (Jones), 2:01. 3. Vernon, Bidoski (Swarbrick, Stecyk), 8:49. 4. Vernon, Lowe (unass.), 17:57. Penalties, Kowalchuk 8:42; Morgan 12:23; Stecyk, Durban 19:54.

Midgents Lose To Cranbrook

CRANBROOK (CP)—Cranbrook took a one-game lead in the best-of-three British Columbia Midget Hockey final as they defeated Kelowna 10-6 here Friday night.

Vince Downey led Cranbrook with four goals while Butch Webb scored three, Mel Knight two and Fred Liebscher one.

For Kelowna Harvey Stolz and Fred Thomas had two each while Wayne Horning and Jack James scored one.

Nine penalties were called, six to Kelowna. Cranbrook goalie John Ogden stopped 40 shots while Kelowna Sid Shussel handled 37.

Second game in series will be played here tonight.

Nelson Wins WIH Series

NELSON (CP)—Nelson Maple Leafs won the 12-game round-robin Western International Hockey League semi-finals Friday night as they trounced Rossland Warriors 6-2 before 1,300 fans here.

The Leafs were paced by Mickey Maglio and Carl Forster with two goals each. Charlie Goodwin and Charlie Burdette added single goals. The Warriors' only two goals were popped in by Allan Lloyd.

The only goal of the first period was scored by Maglio. In the second period, Maglio tallied his second goal and Forster and Burdette added one each.

THE WHIL NELSON—Rossland series open in Nelson tonight. It is a best-of-five series.

Burdette is an intermediate and played one game with the Leafs while coach Ollie Dorohoy is out. Dorohoy suffered a pulled ligaments in his knee.

Elliott Still Running Under Four Min. Mark

BRISBANE (AP)—Australia's Herb Elliott, holder of the mile world record, ran a 3:58.9 mile today in the old century athletic championships at New Lang Park. This compares to his world mark of 3:54.5.

Elliott, who recently returned from a visit to the United States and Canada, went the first quarter in 59 seconds, the half-mile in 2:01 and the three-quarters in 3:03.

Merv Lincoln took the lead the second time around the 440-yard oval, but Elliott stayed on his heels and passed him halfway round on the final circuit.

Spokane Flyers Almost Sure Of Playoff Spot

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It was almost like coming home for Spokane Flyers when they hosted New Westminster Royals at Penitence in southern British Columbia Friday night.

The Flyers, in a talspin as of late and pushed out of their regular starting grounds by an ice show, returned to Penitence where they held their pre-season training camp.

They responded by taking a hard-fought 3-1 victory over the Royals and all but assured themselves of a playoff berth in their first season in the Western Hockey League.

It was a must game for New Westminster who trailed Spokane by only eight points going into the contest. A win was worth four points.

DECIDE TONIGHT

The result left the Royals 12 points behind the Flyers with only six games remaining. A tie will assure Spokane of the last playoff spot. They meet the Royals tonight at New Westminster and the matter could well be decided then.

Meanwhile, Seattle Totems backed into their first coast division league championship, losing 7-3 to Victoria Cougars. But second-place Vancouver Canucks dropped a 6-0 decision to Winnipeg Warriors at the prairie city and lost any hope of overhauling

World Hockey Crown Must Be Decided Somehow Sunday

PRAGUE (CP)—The International Ice Hockey Federation announced today that the world title has to be decided somehow Sunday, even if there is a tie at the top of the standings in the final round.

Goal difference—the number of goals scored over goals conceded to opposing clubs—will be the first tie-breaking formula.

If two teams remain tied on that basis, the championship will be decided on goal average, computed by dividing the number of goals scored by the number conceded. If the tie remains unbroken, the title will be shared.

"We can't possibly have a playoff," said J. F. Ahearne, president of the I.H.F. "Too many of the teams have commitments immediately after the tournament." A playoff earlier had been scheduled in the event of a tie in the final round.

Canada, for example, was scheduled for exhibition games in Czechoslovakia on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night. A playoff would have forced the Canadians to play five times on successive days.

Vancouver's Women's Field Hockey Team Trowned 10-0

LONDON (CP)—The touring Vancouver women's field hockey team was overwhelmed 10-0 today by London's powerful Globetrotters in the first match of a six-week tour of the United Kingdom.

The Globetrotters, made up of players who have represented England in international matches dictated tactics throughout and rarely allowed the less experienced Canadians to mount a dangerous attack.

The Vancouver girls, who will represent Canada at the international women's field hockey tournament in Amsterdam starting April 26, faded after the first 10 minutes of fast end-to-end play. The English club scored their first goal at the 15 minute mark from a goalmouth scramble and led 4-0 at half time.

FINE GOALKEEPING

Only some fine saves by goalkeeper Mrs. Margaret MacLean and the solid defensive work of Canadian backs Jacque Pope and Elma Gavin, prevented the Globetrotters from running up a more impressive score.

Right half Betty Best also had a good game and inspired most of the Canadian attacks.

At least five of the English goals came on screened shots when the Canadians bunched in front of their own net, blocking Mrs. MacLean's view. The visitors also showed a weakness in tackling and allowed the English forwards too much freedom.

MANAGER CONFIDENT

Vancouver team manager Florence Strachan said she was confident her girls would make a better showing in their remaining 12 games in Britain. Part of the trouble today was nervousness and lack of experience against such powerful opponents.

"The girls were not playing as well as they can," she said. "We hope to do better."

The Canadians next game is at Plymouth, Tuesday, March 17, when they meet a West of England XI.

RUMOUR vs. FACTS

The Truth About Funeral Prices

To achieve leadership in any profession is to invite misunderstanding. Hence Day's Funeral Service, because of its unequalled facilities and an unwillingness to let even the simplest funeral pass without full benefit of these facilities, must bear constant rumors of high price. Underdog US Team Poses Last Threat To Canada

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (CP)—The underdog United States team poses perhaps the last threat to Canada's clear run in the 1959 world hockey championship today.

The U.S. played its best game of the tournament Friday night, defeating Czechoslovakia 4-2 to bounce back into contention for the title.

The odds are heavily in favor of the Belleville, Ont., club to retain the championship that Whitby won at Oslo last year. The Canadians had a day off Friday while the Americans were working hard against the Czechs but if the battling U.S. side could manage another upset, the tournament would be wide open.

Here's how the three leaders stood before today's games:

	W	L	T	Pts.
Canada	3	3	0	14
U.S.	4	3	1	12
Russia	3	2	1	10

PLAY U.S. TONIGHT

Canada and the Soviet Union had two games left to play. The U.S. closes out its schedule tonight (3 p.m. AST) with a game against the Canadians, who meet Czechoslovakia Sunday in the last match of the round-robin competition. The Russian games are against Finland and Sweden, both bottom-of-the-table sides.

The three top teams would be tied with four wins and loss each if this happens: the U.S. pulls a surprise by beating favored Canada; Canada defeats Czechoslovakia, as expected; Russia downs Finland and Sweden, against as expected.

Canada needs victories today and Sunday to clinch the title.

Playing coach Ike Hildebrand, who was confidence personified on the eve of the big match with Russia Wednesday at Belleville, won 3-1, was counselling caution

Friday night.

NOT OPTIMISTIC

"We've got no reason to be too confident," he said.

It was announced earlier that a playoff would be held in the event of a tie in the final round.

Soccer Practices On Weekend Here

Two important soccer practices are scheduled for this weekend. Members and aspiring members of the Kelowna Hotspurs senior team will practice Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. in the City Park.

Coach Bob McKinstrey stresses the importance of the practices, particularly in view of the forthcoming game with the Vancouver Park Royal team March 28.
